

CONGRESS BUSY AT WORK.

MANY MATTERS BEING PASSED UPON IN BOTH HOUSES.

To-Day's Proceedings—The Issue of Certificates—The Indiana Public Bill—Other News From Washington To-Day.

Washington, D. C., February 25.—A financial discussion was imminent when the Senate met to-day. The rapid work done at the session last night had cleared away most of the formal matter preceding the important provision for issuing $100,000,000 of certificates of indebtedness to relieve Treasury necessities.

Forbes, from the committee on finance, offered an amendment to the sundry civil bill, embodying the recent resolution of Mr. Wolcott for participation by the United States in the international monetary conference. Mr. Voorhees asked that it be acted on as a part of the pending sundry civil bill, and this reference was made.

"Is it expected that the Senate Commissioners will be chosen before the adjournment?" asked Mr. Hawley (Republican), of Connecticut.

"That is the understanding, I believe," responded Mr. Voorhees.

The Bureau of the House then taken up, and Mr. Cockerill offered a committee amendment, which was agreed to, appropriating $2,000 to Colonel Adams, chief of the Bureau of Customs, and pensions of the War Department, to reimburse him for expenses resulting from the fire in the Treasury building.

Mr. Berry (Democrat), Arkansas, chairman of the committee on public buildings, spoke in support of the committee amendment reducing the appropriation for protecting the Capitol from fire to $100,000, a letter from the Commissioner of the Land Office was read, showing the various improvements.

Mr. Berry spoke of the extent of the timber depletion. Instead of reducing the service, he proposed an increase to $120,000.

Mr. Gorman energetically opposed an increase. He said that the service were well recognized as comfortable positions for the officers, and that the increase was an abuse of the office.

continued Mr. Gorman vehemently, "that Congress cut out the money for the officers, and I regret to say the officer in question exceeded that appropriation by $45,000."

PROCEEDINGS IN THE HOUSE.

The Olney Labor Bill Is Being Considered To-Day.

Washington, D. C., February 25.—The House at 10 o'clock today. Mr. Henderson (Democrat), of North Carolina, chairman of the committee on postoffices and post roads, immediately called for the consideration of the postoffice bill, much to the disappointment of the group of members who were clamoring for the consideration of the Olney labor bill. The Senate amendment, providing that railway mail clerks, heretofore appointed should live in the houses of the postmasters, was taken up.

from any part of the world who shall prior to 1900, construct a vessel that will demonstrate the practicability of safely navigating the same at a speed of thirty miles an hour, and capable of carrying freight and passengers. The object of the report is apparently to print the information available in the subject of experiments at aerial navigation since the days of Montgolfier.

To those who have not given this subject much attention," says the report, "it may seem somewhat visionary to seriously entertain the idea of navigating the air, since the efforts in this direction have been in most instances failures, yet the eventual solution of the problem will result in a revolution in the economic and industrial revolutions in the history of mankind, and have the greatest possible influence on the civilization of the world. Whether they continue, commercial results will be achieved as early as 1900 is a question which your committee do not undertake to answer. It is believed, however, that the passage of the bill will act as a stimulant to the work already in progress, looking to the solution of the problem of aerial navigation, and in that respect it can not but do great good. That the problem will be solved is no ground for saying upon which to rest a reasonable doubt."

REPORT OF HOUSE COMMITTEE ON INDIANAPOLIS AFFAIRS.

Various Sections of the Charter Changed by the Committee—Effect of the Amendments on the Present Law.

The House committee on the affairs of the city of Indianapolis has reported favorably House bill 282, with amendments. The bill amending the city charter. The report of the committee is made a special order for tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The first section of the bill prescribes the method by which territory may be annexed to the city. When such territory lies within the corporate limits of another city or town, an appeal is granted to any person who may feel aggrieved, who may file his remonstrance against such annexation in the Circuit or Superior Courts of the county within ten days after the publication of the bill. The bill provides that the annexation shall not take place unless the Court shall be of the opinion that the annexation is for the benefit of the city and the safety of the inhabitants of the annexing city. The bill also provides that the annexation shall not take place unless the Court shall be of the opinion that the annexation is for the benefit of the city and the safety of the inhabitants of the annexing city.

Section 2, which amends Section 40 of the charter, gives the common council a majority of the property-owners therein, but that the annexation shall not take place unless the Court shall be of the opinion that the annexation is for the benefit of the city and the safety of the inhabitants of the annexing city. The bill also provides that the annexation shall not take place unless the Court shall be of the opinion that the annexation is for the benefit of the city and the safety of the inhabitants of the annexing city.

Section 3, which amends Section 45 of the charter, prescribes the duties of the mayor. It makes him the responsible executive head of the city, though he may not remove any person from office without obtaining a message to the Council giving the reason for his action. The most important provision of this section is that the mayor shall have the right to revoke the license of any one who has willfully violated the terms and conditions of the license. The bill also provides that the mayor shall have the right to revoke the license of any one who has willfully violated the terms and conditions of the license.

Section 4, which amends Section 56 of the charter, relates to the department of law. It provides for the city attorney, who shall have charge of the legal business of the city and shall be paid a salary of $3,000 per year. All fees and perquisites, except for prosecuting violators of city ordinances, shall be collected by him and paid to the treasury of the city. He is to have a deputy and such other assistants as he may be authorized by ordinance to employ. No judgment against the city shall be enforced except by order of the court, and no action shall be brought against the city without the leave of the common council.

Section 5, which amends Section 56 of the charter, relates to the department of law. It provides for the city attorney, who shall have charge of the legal business of the city and shall be paid a salary of $3,000 per year. All fees and perquisites, except for prosecuting violators of city ordinances, shall be collected by him and paid to the treasury of the city. He is to have a deputy and such other assistants as he may be authorized by ordinance to employ. No judgment against the city shall be enforced except by order of the court, and no action shall be brought against the city without the leave of the common council.

Section 6, which amends Section 56 of the charter, relates to the department of law. It provides for the city attorney, who shall have charge of the legal business of the city and shall be paid a salary of $3,000 per year. All fees and perquisites, except for prosecuting violators of city ordinances, shall be collected by him and paid to the treasury of the city. He is to have a deputy and such other assistants as he may be authorized by ordinance to employ. No judgment against the city shall be enforced except by order of the court, and no action shall be brought against the city without the leave of the common council.

Section 7, which amends Section 56 of the charter, relates to the department of law. It provides for the city attorney, who shall have charge of the legal business of the city and shall be paid a salary of $3,000 per year. All fees and perquisites, except for prosecuting violators of city ordinances, shall be collected by him and paid to the treasury of the city. He is to have a deputy and such other assistants as he may be authorized by ordinance to employ. No judgment against the city shall be enforced except by order of the court, and no action shall be brought against the city without the leave of the common council.

READY FOR THE CARNIVAL

PREPARATIONS MADE BY THE MAENNERCHOR SOCIETY.

Elaborate Scenic Effects and Decorations—Arrangements for Preventing a Jam of Carriages—The Entertainment.

The last branch of evergreen has been put in place, the last nail has been driven and the electric lights have been tried and found satisfactory. Everything is in readiness for the carnival of the Maennerchor to-night. Tomlinson Hall has never looked prettier or daintier than it does at present. It is ablaze with electric lights, gorgeous with many flowers and much evergreen, and it has been converted into a fitting place for masks and mummery.

The large stage has never been fitted with such a set of scenery as is now in place. The proscenium wings extend clear to the side walls, and the stage is now in place. ## JANITORS MAKE CHARGES

CONTINUATION OF THE AFFAIRS OF TOMLINSON HALL.

New Specifications Admitting Various Curbs and Bermudes Asphalt To Competition—No Sub-Contracts Hereafter.

The custodian of Tomlinson Hall and his three colored janitors were before the Board of Public Works this morning. The mayor was also present. The subordinates had taken offense because their chief had reported that they would not work. They entered a denial and made counter-charges. They declared that the janitors had been ordered to clean the hall, and that they had refused to do so. They also declared that they had been ordered to clean the hall, and that they had refused to do so.

The board finally announced that it was the business of the janitors and the custodian to keep Tomlinson Hall clean, whether it took one hour or twenty-four hours. The men must obey orders, and if they have grievances they may appeal to the board. The board said that the janitors were to be kept clean and that the proper persons would be found if they are not already in command. The board will investigate, and if necessary, there will be removals. The mayor charged that there was no room for incompetent or unworthy employees.

THE JULIAN CLAIM.

The Supreme Court Decides Against the Claimant—The Record.

The claim of Jacob B. Julian and John F. Julian against the State was decided by the Supreme Court in one of its recent decisions. The State owned 8,000 acres in Newton county, known as the Beaver lake land. This had been occupied by the State since it was acquired by the State in 1880. The State had employed Jacob B. Julian, John F. Julian and John F. Julian as assistants. The appointments were recognized, the Julians claimed, by Governor Morton, before the Legislature of 1881-1882. The State had secured possession of the land. The Julians claimed that they had been employed by the State since 1880. The State had secured possession of the land.
